

Aims and Objectives of IAPR YPG

Following are the core objectives of IARP YPG forum:

- Facilitate communication and collaboration among young professionals in the field of radiation protection (RP) and its allied disciplines.
- Keep members informed about recent developments, advancements, and best practices in RP.
- Organize study sessions and educational events to enhance members' knowledge and skills.
- Foster interdisciplinary discussions and knowledge sharing among members.
- Enhance members' communication skills through group discussions, presentations, and other interactive activities.
- Create a supportive and inclusive environment where members can seek advice, share experiences, and collaborate on research projects.
- Promote the professional growth and development of young RP researchers in India.